

Christmas Traditions Will Be Featured on State College Campus

Season Will Bring Colorful Display

'Hanging of the Greens,'
Annual Event, Is Dated
Sunday, December 18.

Evergreens Don Lights

Dormitories Have Holiday Spirit;
Decorate Windows With Trees,
Wreaths, Yuletide Holly.

Once again the Christmas season has arrived and once again time-honored traditions that have come to mean so much to faculty and students at this college will be observed.

For many years a symbol of "Christmas on the hill," the giant pine tree at the entrance of the campus stands gayly decorated with colored lights, and topped, of course, with its brightly lighted star.

Hall Windows Are Decorated
Another featured part of the holiday decorations on the campus is Residence Hall. Each year the girls decorate the evergreen in front of the main door. Windows of the dorm receive individual attention and are decorated with small trees, wreaths, Christmas scenes and other seasonal variations.

Inside the dormitory, holly, mistletoe and evergreen are used. In the huge fireplace the traditional yule log waits, and of course, another tree stands surrounded by mysterious packages.

Began in 1933

One of the most interesting Christmas traditions on the campus is the annual Hanging of the Greens. This custom was originated in 1933 by Miss Margaret Stephenson then dean of women at the college. This year the program is in charge of Miss Martha Locke, dean of women. She will be assisted by Miss Bonnie Magill of the women's physical education department. The music department will provide instrumental and choral groups for the program.

Ceremony Will Be at 4 o'clock

The ceremony will begin at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, December 18, at Residence Hall. It will be followed by a tea and an open house. Doris Jean Hamilton is general chairman for the program. Mary Booth is in charge of the traditional "Stick Dance" and the lighting of the yule log.

Always a favorite part of the Christmas festivities is the Christmas Ball. This year the dance was the first formal of the year and was held last Saturday night at the main gymnasium from 9 until 1 o'clock. Music for the affair was furnished by Bob Ward's band.

Students Plan Ball

In the receiving line were President and Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foster, Miss Martha Locke, and Herman Hausheer. Committee chairmen were Herman Hausheer, chairman of the social committee; Bob Guthland, decorations; Monty Pitner, program; Helen Fisher, refreshments; and Marge McGee, tickets.

Last but not least to make its appearance on the calendar of pre-holiday events will be the special Christmas assembly. This year it will be presented Wednesday, December 21.

'Assembly Program Includes Play
'The Christmas Apple,' a play in two scenes will be presented. Participating in the production will be some members of the sixth grade, the Junior High Dramatics Club, and the high school speech class from Horace Mann.

Background music will be provided by the Tower Choir under the direction of Dr. Paul McNutt, chairman of the music department. Scenery will be provided by the dramatics department. James Rybak, speech supervisor at Horace Mann, will direct the play. He will be assisted by Richard Huff, student teacher.

Newly Formed Math Club Elects Year's Officers

On Wednesday, December 7, at 4 p. m., the newly formed Mathematics Club met in Room 324 to elect officers and present a program. Officers elected were vice chairman, Max Kinney; reporter, Ralph Quimby; Chairman Bill Cummings and Secretary Melvin Coleman had been elected at a previous meeting.

After the election of officers, Forrest Lowe gave a discussion and demonstration on how to use the slide rule.

The Mathematics Club, sponsored by the mathematics department of the College, wishes to promote interest in mathematics and the teaching of mathematics.

"I Won't Be Home for Christmas, but...."

Yule Customs Are Different, but Ideas Are Alike

Three From College Are Official Dow Delegates

Dr. J. W. Jones, president of the College, was one of the speakers at the inaugural luncheon held in honor of Dr. Blanche Hinman Dow, new president of Cottey College, Nevada, on November 28.

Dr. Jones, Miss Estella Bowman of the English department, and Miss Olive DeLuce, chairman of the fine arts department, were delegates to the inauguration and were in the cap and gown procession which was a part of the impressive ceremonies. Dr. Jones represented this College; Miss Bowman, the Washburn Municipal University of Topeka; Miss DeLuce, Columbia University.

Mr. Donald Valk Visits Trenton School System

Mr. Donald N. Valk, chairman of the industrial arts department, visited the Trenton schools at the request of Superintendent Rissler, November 21. Mr. Valk also addressed the members of the senior high school and junior college parent-teacher associations that evening.

Following the parent-teacher meeting, Mr. Valk met with Trenton school officials and the Trenton board of education. Trenton is considering the introduction of an industrial education program throughout its entire system.

Leland Hofer, a senior majoring in physics, recently completed the construction of apparatus used to transmit sound over a beam of light. The device was made in the shop of the physics department, by using war surplus materials. It is used to demonstrate the photo-electric cell, or "electric eye."

Work on the project was begun last summer when Mr. M. D. Long, physical science instructor, stated that he would like to have a device to demonstrate the photo-electric cell used in sound motion picture projectors. Some preliminary experiments with a cell removed from a war surplus gunnery trainer gave promising results, and parts of Navy sonar equipment provided a plentiful supply of tubes and other parts. A phonograph motor and arm were salvaged from the junk pile.

Several systems were tried but the one finally used works as follows: music from a record is converted to electrical impulse by the phonograph. These impulses are amplified by a series of radio tubes and are then used to flicker the light from an ordinary flashlight which has been modified to fit the apparatus.

The light beam is directed toward the electric eye, which changes the flickering light back to a pulsating electric current. The current passes through a radio tube and is fed into a standard amplifier, which operates an ordinary radio speaker to reproduce the music. A microphone can be connected in place of the phonograph to transmit voices over the light beam.

By BARBRO BOLINDER

You know us, don't you? we are the ones with names that make your tongue feel as though it had been twisted three times. We are the ones that long for flowers and mild sea breezes or talk about ski tours and mountain climbing when the thermometer tells us 100 degrees in the shadow. We are the ones that think a little differently now and then.

We are Diana from China, Berta from Peru, Agneta and Barbro from Sweden and Hans from Holland. And we are here, right on your campus. We traveled a long way to learn America, American ideals, thoughts and beliefs. It took much courage and much thinking. But here we are, and we are happy for it.

Globe Suggests Far Away Countries
We met the other day in the library to talk about home and Christmas. Hans put the globe on the table; it whirled round and brought us colorful pictures from far away countries.

Berta shut her eyes, dreaming about Christmas in springtime and sunshine, with the houses decorated with flowering branches in colorful vases. The children put their shoes out for Santa Claus to fill with delightful presents.

Holiday Mean Church and Family
Agneta's sparkling eyes saw the family-sleds going to early church sermon on Christmas day. The torches flame and flare under the northern lights, and in church the old, well known hymns are sung by young and old. I told about the young beautiful girl who, personifying Saint Lucia, wakes you in an early December morning to sing Christmas in. She comes as a messenger of light and festivities in her white dress and with candles in her hair amidst the darkness of December.

Hans gets his Christmas presents on December 5, but on Christmas Day comes the great celebration with a big dinner, when the whole family comes together to have a good time.

Understanding Is Essential
Diana knows what a thick coat or a quilt would mean for poor refugees of Shanghai today. She remembers the happy feeling of being able to send a surprise-package at Christmas time, but she recalls also the courage and proudest of these people in their poverty.

Yes, the pictures are all different. Yet they have one thing in common; they all tell us about Christmas. The thoughts and the ideas are the same. And that is what we are here to tell you about. After all, we are not so different. Even if we came from thousands of miles away. Together we can all work toward a better understanding between people, toward a better future. Then, one day the words will come true: "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

And now, Merry Christmas!
Vrolijk Kerstfeest! God Jul!
Felices Pascuas!

Home Ec. Club Sponsors Bazaar
The Home Economics Club sponsored a bazaar on Saturday morning, December 10, at the Brown Shoe Store. The food and other articles sold were contributed by the members. The money will be used for the benefit of the club.

Extension Courses Offer Opportunities

Faculty Members Travel
Long Distances During Winter Months.

Many Centers Are Used

Most Northwest Missouri County
Seats Schedule Classes; 288
Students Participate.

Incredulous as it may seem, members of the College faculty who are teaching extension courses throughout Northwest Missouri travel 28,000 miles to conduct their classes.

The extension department at the College has 13 class centers in 13 counties as follows: Bethany, Harrison County; Cameron, Clinton County; Chillicothe, Livingston County; Grant City, Worth County; Liberty, Clay County; Maryville, Nodaway County; Platte City, Platte County; Princeton, Mercer County; Richmond, Ray County; Savannah, Andrew County; Stanberry, Gentry County; St. Joseph, Buchanan County; and Trenton, Grundy County.

Mr. Gaylor Goes 150 Miles

Traveling 28,000 miles during the duration of their 35 extension classes composed of 288 students, would certainly put a strain on old Dobbin if things were as they used to be. However, the 15 faculty members who instruct classes have all the modern conveniences which the modern education of modern people requires.

Having to travel 150 miles to teach his class, Mr. George R. Gaylor of the social science department, who teaches Social Science 1c at Richmond, travels the longest distance in reaching his classes. Mr. Myron P. Rose and Mr. Buford Garner of the social science and business departments follow closely, each going as far as Chillicothe, 120 miles away.

Many Departments Represented

Other faculty members, their courses and class centers are as follows: Mr. G. W. Anderson, physical education department, Biology 49, Bethany; Miss Anne Arnold, Horace Mann English department, English Composition IIB, Bethany; Mr. Elery L. Gibson, Horace Mann, Methods of Teaching Fine Arts in the Elementary School 145A, St. Joseph; Dr. John L. Harr, social science department, History 80A and 50C, Princeton; Mr. F. B. Houghton, agriculture department, general agriculture, Liberty and Maryville.

Mr. Myrl D. Long, physical science department, Physical Science 1A, Liberty and Cameron; Miss Helen F. Markland, mathematics department, Arithmetic 15, Stanberry; Miss Ruth Miller, music department, Advanced Elementary School Music 13, St. Joseph; Miss Neva Ross, Horace Mann, Teaching of Reading 58, Platte City; Mr. John L. Taylor, social science department, History 50B, Stanberry; Mr. Leslie W. White, physical science department, Geographic Principles, Bethany; Mr. Robert Gee, speech department, Speech 51, Grant City.

Seven Instructors Are Off Campus

Seven instructors off campus are the following: Mr. Currin Davis, Trenton high school, Child Psychology 120, Trenton; Mr. W. L. Denton, Richmond high school, Tests and Measurements 75 and 150, Richmond; Mr. Jewell Dowell, Chillicothe high school, Speech 51, Chillicothe; Mr. G. A. Green, music instructor, St. Joseph, Introduction to Elementary School Music 13 and Advanced Elementary School Music (Continued on Page Four)

Misses Raattama, Hull Begin Instructing Here

Arriving at the College to take their places on the faculty are Miss Elizabeth Hull and Miss Helen Raattama, new instructors in the home economics and physical education departments, respectively.

Miss Hull, a Maryville girl, has been working toward her master's degree at Iowa State, Ames, Iowa. Prior to that she was vocational home economics instructor at Lebanon; supervising teacher at Warrensburg; and assistant supervisor of state home economics in North Dakota. Miss Hull's responsibility is instructing in clothing and textile classes and supervising the Home Management House.

Claiming Iron Range, Minnesota, as her home, Miss Raattama comes to Maryville as instructor in anatomy and dancing classes, taking Miss Mary Goodman's place. Teaching recreational classes is not new to Miss Raattama as she was a recreational teacher for cardiac children in New York. Among the other schools in which she has taught are Columbia University, New York; Duluth high school, Duluth, Minnesota; and the University of Dubuque, Dubuque, Iowa.

Miss Raattama began her duties on November 30, and Miss Hull arrived December 5.

Messrs. Harr and Taylor Make Trip to Baltimore

Dr. John Harr and Mr. John Taylor, instructors in social science at the College, took a trip to Baltimore, Maryland, to attend the annual council for the social study instructors during Thanksgiving vacation. The trip was made by car.

On Thanksgiving afternoon the two visited Gettysburg battlefield. They also saw Fort McHenry, where Francis Scott Key wrote the "Star Spangled Banner."

On their return trip they visited the scene of the Battle of Bull Run. Especially enjoyed by both was the trip through the Shenandoah Valley which was covered by a two inch snow.

While at the council Dr. Harr served as chairman of the Junior College Social Science division. Dr. Harr and Mr. Taylor returned Monday, November 28.

PREREGISTRATION

In my estimation, preregistration is an ideal system for preventing a chaos such as prevailed in registration day of the fall quarter. That day was undoubtedly a trying one for all concerned. It was like a busy day in Grand Central Station, with hordes of people trying their best to push into lines and some patiently waiting, hoping to get by without getting hurt. Some of the most fortunate had very little trouble, but the ordeal became very discouraging to some, who, like me, a freshman, hardly knew what they were supposed to be doing anyway.

During preregistration for this quarter I obtained and filled out all of the required cards, permits, etc. I found this action was a great help, or on November 29 I had to stand in only one line and for only a short while. I didn't even have to stand in line at the Bookstore to get my textbooks. There was hardly any comparison between the registration day of this quarter and that of last quarter as far as turmoil is concerned. I believe that preregistration is the cure for the ill.

—Donald Gregory.

THE LOST MEANING

Many people think of Christmas primarily as a time for children, but to me it has a much more significant meaning. Christmas may mean comfort to the sorrowful, strength to the weak, courage to those in bewilderment, warmth to the lonely, hope to the discouraged, and, basically, love to all.

In the past, people gave simple gifts with a meaning straight from the heart, but today Christmas has become commercialized and we have a tendency to give gifts with the theory that "the higher the price, the better the gift" rather than to give them with the true or "lost meaning" which is in the remembrance of Christ.

When people begin to realize the true meaning of Christmas, they will find that it lies in the celebration of Christ's birthday, remembering his teachings of love, charity, and understanding of fellow men. This will mark the day when the "lost meaning" will be found, and when this thought is the supreme interpretation of Christmas, all men on earth will rejoice.

—Jackie Schonemann.

PARENTS APPROVE!

One of the highlights of Parents' Day was the assembly which marked the beginning of the "Parents' Day" program. Fathers and mothers from north and south, east or west, like to see their sons and daughters display their talents before a large and appreciative audience.

After the assembly a hot lunch was served in the Men's Quadrangle for the students and their guests.

The climax of the day was reached when the Maryville Bearcats won over the Warrensburg Indians by a large margin.

Parents' Day activities ended with an open house at the President's home, at which the parents were given the opportunity to meet members of the faculty and officials of the College.

Receive Sad News

Maxine and Leota Shipley of Isadore received the sad news of the death of their mother, Mrs. Ivor Shipley, on December 5.

"Every Student Get a Student."

God Called on Me

God called on me one night when it was late

And said that love should conquer over hate;

"Twas just a dream, but yet I seemed to see

A light as bright as silver circling me.

He spoke and smiled as though we'd met before,

And then I wasn't frightened any more.

He said, "How strange it seems to me that man

Has lost the meaning that his Maker planned.

I gave my only son to light the way,

And now you honor Him with Christmas day;

But have you all forgotten why you sing

Of Jesus who was born to be your king?

Let love prevail and play its proper part,

The joy of Christmas is within the heart.

To give is more divine than to receive;

My son, in this have faith; in this believe.

Now I shall go, but speak my word and say

That out of darkness you saw God one day."

It's strange that I should see my Master call,

For I am blind and cannot see at all.

When the strains of "White Christmas" begin to fill the winter air, we start thinking of brightly lighted trees, sparkling snow, and gayly decorated gifts. However, for some there is an entirely different meaning for the Yuletide season.

While attending the State University of Iowa I frequently went out to the hospital to entertain the patients. On one of these occasions I met a young boy who was blind. I talked to him for about an hour and mentioned that I would soon be leaving for Christmas vacation. It was then that he told me what his conception of Christmas meant to him. To him everything was an inward reaction. There was no thought of rushing through the crowds to purchase gifts, nor was there any thought of window decorations and bright lights.

I don't know why, but I had never thought of this before. I suppose that, like everyone else, I had merely taken Christmas for granted.

I never knew the boy's name, nor have I ever seen him again, but it was through his inspiration that this poem was written.

The Stroller

Once upon a time, and it is presumed that the time is still going on, there lived a little old man up at the North Pole, known as Santa Claus. Now this little old man had the habit of bringing presents every Christmas to all the good little boys and girls.

In the past, the Stroller has had to wait until after Christmas to report on what happened, but this year, after a quick journey to the North Pole (hrrrrr), and by giving Santa a big shot of Christmas Spirit, the following letter was made available to the Stroller.

College of Knowledge
Maryville, Missouri.

Dear Santa Claus:

In behalf of some of the chilluns in my house I should like to place an order for the following to be delivered on or about December 25.

Billie Edie, one sparkler for the finger.
Max Kinney, another moment with Jean Short.

All fraternity pledges, the abolition of Hell Night.

Lewis Lawrence, ten free poker lessons.

Larry Vaudrin, a new basketball.

Joe Zelenz, another veil for his famous dance.

Mary Peek, an option on John Carlson.

Glen Meredith, honorary membership in the dorm.

Sharlis Marple, a new Bible.

Doris J. Hamilton, a larger stocking to hang up next year.

Sergia Fries, a frat pin.

Bob Douglas, a pair of size "12" shoes.

Santa, the above list shows you specified needs of a few of my children. I suppose it is just "nuts" for the rest of them.

Affectionately,

MRS. OURY.

Let it never be said that the Stroller wasn't in there trying! Well, Merry Christmas and save some of it for New Year's Eve.

An Interview With Santa Claus

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story was turned in by a cub reporter who maintained he had fallen asleep in the Smoker and had awakened to find himself locked in the College. His story is presented here just as he wrote it. As to its authenticity, the reader himself must be the judge.)

"Who's there?"

"Whom did you expect? Santa Claus?"

"Wait 'til I get this match lighted and—why—but you can't be. I don't believe in Santa Claus!"

"Then I'm not here."

"You mean...? Give me a moment to get used to this. What will the guys at the Quad say? They never believe me as it is."

"They'd better. I've received a lot of letters from there the last few weeks. Asking for the darndest things, too."

"Wait a minute. If you're Santa and I'm a reporter, this is the chance of a lifetime. Mind if I ask you a few questions?"

"I guess I'll have time. Sure, go ahead. This will be fun for a change."

Q. What are you doing in Maryville—at the College so early?

A. I'm making pre-Christmas rounds to check up on which are the good boys and girls on college campuses. And, as they say in Brooklyn, it aint easy!

Q. You said you get a lot of letters from the guys and gals here. What are they like?

A. They all sound the same. The guys want men and the men want girls. You'd think Mrs. Claus and I ran a matrimonial agency!

Q. What else do we ask for?

A. Well, the professors ask for more effort on the students' part, and the students ask for less effort on the professors' part. It's been the same ever since I can remember.

Q. What do you think of the Christmas spirit here at the College?

A. Do you really want to know?

Q. Sure. What is your honest opinion?

A. You have some very nice traditions here at the College, but—Well, I don't know how to say this. It's just that to an old man like me it seems that, like a great many Americans, the boys and girls here are somewhat selfish. They don't realize how well off and lucky they are compared with the people of some countries I visit. Instead of asking for so much more, it seems to me they should be satisfied with all they have, indeed, share some of it with others.

Used to be most of the letters I'd receive would be short and simple. Lately they're getting to be long, itemized lists. And some of them are almost ultimatum! I wish the people of this country—the whole world, for that matter—would get back to the old meaning of Christmas—the "good old days" when giving was emphasized rather than getting, and everything wasn't so commercialized. From the Den

I'm dreaming of a white Christmas... yes, it is time to start thinking of that grand guy... St. Nick... vacation starts the 21st... and I haven't done a bit of shopping yet... nosing thru the shops though... a couple of the fairer sex are going to get diamonds, according to the conversations in the halls.

Several of the talks have been on the subject... "What I am going to do over the holidays?"... One froth tells that he is going to study... anatomy, probably... me, I am just going to sit tight by the fire and wait for Santa... Lyle "Burr" Ives' Martin wants the rules to the card game canasta... house on Fourth Street wants a clock that doesn't chime "ten-thirty" so loud... the house Mother at 529 just wants peace and quiet.

Tests are over and everyone is happy again... the old midnight oil is back on the shelf for another quarter... with a couple more hours under the transcribers... several feel much better... the final grades are in and... nothing to worry about for a month or so... the Sig Taus had a dinner party the other night... Phi Sigs played host to a couple of brothers from Warrensburg after the game... the onion co-sage of the week goes to the freshman that answered Dr. Strong's question... "What is the symbol for carbon?"... with "Let's see"... that is right, "C"... One of the familiar faces around the "lab" will be missing this quarter... best of luck, Steeby... the clock at Chicks was twenty minutes slow the other night... the hands got stuck... yeah, stuck... Perry Langer found a new way to get to sleep... now he can't wake up...

A few new faces around the campus now that registration is over... pre-registration saved a lot of those "down in the dumps" feelings... a lot of lines... a lot of time... let's keep it... well, we have good prospects of a permanent STUDENT UNION... let's show that we really want it by supporting a temporary one... say, do you know that love making hasn't changed in centuries?... even "Cleopater" sat up all night with a lyre... tootle oo... Shell.

Barkatze Will Give 1950 Pep Dance for Students

There is a young man on the campus who has made a New Year's resolution somewhat ahead of time. He has resolved to attend the 1950 Barkatze Pep Dance and thereby start the New Year right!

The dance will be held just after Christmas vacation. It will take place on January 6, in the Administration Building following the basketball game with Rockhurst.

To climax the evening, Gabe Cox, the Barkatze president, will crown Maryville's Pep King and Queen. This couple will be chosen by those students attending the dance.

Nominations for the royal pair will be made by four student organizations. The Green and White Peppers, Barkatze W.A.A. and M Club will each present the name of two students, a boy and a girl. Couples will be chosen according to their interest and participation in cheering at games and earnest backing of the Bearcat team.

Good danceable music, a concession stand, and a celebration of three ingredients to provide an evening of enjoyment! Make a New Year's resolution to keep the calendar open for the Pep Dance on January 6!

The committee consisted of Virginia Wade, chairman, Kathryn Parman, Mary Booth, Mary Lou Moore, and Mary Jo Winn, who contributed their services toward making the project a success.

Maryville Bearcats Are Hosts to Pittsburgh Teachers Saturday Night

Coach Milner's Team Is in Top Condition

Four Returning Lettermen And Transfer Student Make Up First Five.

Pittsburgh Will Be Tough

Teachers Have Fast, Rangy Squad; Finished Second in Kansas Conference Last Year.

This Saturday, December 17, Coach Lance's quintet from Pittsburgh, Kansas, will tangle with the Bearcats on the Maryville court. There isn't much doubt that Maryville will be prepared to meet the Southern invaders. Games with Buena Vista, St. Benedict's, University of Nebraska, and the Rockhurst tournament, all have proved to be valuable training experiences.

Pittsburgh Has Top Team

Depending upon a fast working offense that sets itself into screen shots, Maryville will be offering a challenge to the Teachers, who, last year, were runners-up in the Kansas Conference. Although Emporia retained the championship title in that conference, statistically Pittsburgh was the best team offensively and defensively.

Likewise, the Bearcats present a well-balanced team. With an offense that hits from set shots, and with a man-to-man defense that stumbled the Buena Vista and St. Benedict's scoring system, Milner's forces are a stumbling block for opposition.

Pittsburgh, however, has beaten Maryville this year and did it in the Rockhurst tournament battle for championship. The 41-36 score came from a deadlocked tie in the last two minutes.

Team Shows Promise

And this year Coach Milner is working on the development of one of the best prospective teams he has had for many years.

Al Henningsen, a junior from Atlantic, Iowa, occupies the starting berth at the post position. Last year Al was top scorer on the Bearcat team with 347 points, and was placed on the MIAA second string all-conference team. The 6' 5" center is one of the most important assets to the Maryville squad.

A transfer student, Kirby Lyle, from the University of Missouri, however, has been the brightest spark in the team of Bearcat play. He is quick-thinking, energetic, and a fast breaking guard with accurate shooting.

Younger Most Experienced

Reliable Pete Younger, after having lettered three years by hitting basketball hoops, will be playing his last year for Milner. Backed with experience, Pete promises to be a strong forward scoring machine.

Gene Ceglenski, a senior and a two year letterman from St. Joseph, has been impressive in offensive play; and Charles Ramsey, sophomore letterman, has dominated rebounding thus far this season and has an unquivering eye for two pointers.

Supplementing lettermen are White Meyers, John Yurchak, Bud Carmichael, Slim Tanner, and Ken Jones. Ronald Wood, Mick Anderson, Larry "Baseball" Vaudrin, and Don Reynolds are other experienced basketball men. George Coulter and Dick Buckridge are the freshmen representatives on the team.

Commission Plans Future Competition

Members of the intramural commission look into the future for the many events planned for student participation. Doing a wonderful job of planning this program are, seated, Chairman Don Hoffman; Adviser Coach Allgood; and George Coulter. Standing are Clyde Thompson, George Haws, Paul Tobin, and Wilbur Pollard.

Maryville Trounces Buena Vista 54-24

Opening Contest Reveals Potent Bearcat Squad As Beavers Suffer.

A flashy and talented Missouri State College cage squad made its debut Saturday night at the College gymnasium with a lachrymose 54 to 24 victory over the Buena Vista Beavers of Storm Lake, Iowa.

With Henningsen and Ramsey pacing the offensive attack, the Bearcats built up an early 14 to 0 lead and were never threatened throughout the entire game.

On the opening tip off the Bearcats took command of the ball and Ramsey dumped in the initial bucket of the contest. The Beavers were unable to penetrate the Maryville man-for-man defense and again the Cats moved in for another score. On the shot Ramsey was fouled and made both free throws good. It was Ramsey who dumped in a total of nine points to carry the Green and White to their early lead.

A word of praise for the Maryville starting quintet on their brilliant defensive work is well deserved. Ceglenski, Henningsen, Younger, and Ramsey, held the Beavers scoreless. Not until Carey was awarded a foul shot and made it good did the Storm Lakers penetrate the scoring column. The Beavers collected but 13 points for the first half and most of those were against the Bearcat second team. Maryville led 30 to 13 at the intermission.

Al Henningsen opened the second half with nine quick points to send the Cats far enough in the lead to allow Coach Milner to begin free substitution. Every man on the Bearcat bench saw plenty of action during the second half.

High scoring honors for the night were taken by Henningsen with 15 points and Ramsey with 11 counters. For the losers, Corey dumped 8 points through the hoop.

St. Benedict Is Second

Foe Losing to Bearcats

Not quite so sharp in their second game, Maryville Bearcats broke loose in the second half to down a scrappy St. Benedict's team before a packed house at the College gymnasium Tuesday night, December 6, 56 to 35.

Matching the Bearcat's man to man defense, Coach Walsh's Ravens made it rough sledding for the Green and White during the first half, which Maryville led 21 to 14, but Coach Milner's boys cut loose in the second half to pull away with Pete Younger and Slim Tanner leading the way.

Pete Younger opened up the second half with three fielders and two Annie Oakleys for eight points while Slim Tanner hit four out of five free heaves and scored once from the field for six more to lead the Bearcat score with 11 and 10 points respectively.

Jim Oldani, St. Benedict's brilliant ball handling center, was the big gun in Ravens' attack hitting the bucket for four field goals and three free throws to tie Pete Younger for high scoring honors with 11 points.

First Half Was Tightly Played

The first half was tightly played by both squads, with the Bearcats jumping to a 6 to 0 lead before the Ravens closed the gap and went into the lead 7 to 6. Maryville tied it 9 to 7 after. Again, St. Benedict's came back to knot the count at 9 all. With the aid of Bud Carmichael's fielder and Slim Tanner's two field goals, the Cats slowly widened the gap to lead at intermission.

Coach Milner again gave his reserves a chance to gain more experience by playing his full 15-man squad. White Meyers and George Coulter showed improvement over last Saturday's performance.

Fullback Marvin Weed Is MIAA All-Star Selection

Rolla, superior team of the MIAA conference, dominated the Associated Press' mythical first and second all-star team with a total of eight places. The coaches and writers who saw those teams in action placed five of Coach Gale Bullman's Miners on the first team.

Maryville placed five on the first and second teams. Marvin Weed was fullback of the first squad, while on the second list Gerald Weed was placed at end, Joseph Gardner at tackle, John Hellerich at guard, and Norm James at halfback.

Whitney of Rolla was perhaps the outstanding back of the conference. Total yards gained for eight games was 850 yards, or better than 100 yards per game. He had nine touchdowns for 54 points.

Weed Gets Most Votes

Marvin Weed, Maryville senior from Orient, Iowa, who was at his best when pressure was on, polled the biggest vote from the coaches, a total of 60 points.

Quarterback Schmidt of Rolla completed 51 of 110 passes for 748 yards, seven of them for touchdowns.

Nebraska University Tops Bearcats 58-39

Half-Time Score Is Close 28-25 Count; Maryville Fades Second Half.

The Maryville Bearcats lost their first hoop tilt this season Wednesday night, 58-39, to the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers in Lincoln's Coliseum.

Although the Bearcats had held the Huskers to a 28-25 advantage at half time, their opponents warmed up as they returned to the floor to finish the game.

The Husker defense tightened and with the Husker shooting more deadly the Nebraska jumped to a 41-28 lead after six minutes in the second half.

Husker Bus Whitehead, the mainstay of his team in the first period, was aided by good shooting of his teammates in the second period. The Bearcats were behind 23 to 16 after 12 minutes of play but Pete Younger and Alan Henningsen shriveled Nebraska's lead to three points at halftime with some fancy shooting on both field goals and free throws.

Fancy Interceptions

The Cats had earlier kept in the game with Henningsen connecting with Kirby Lyle's passing. Lyle playing good ball all evening, made Husker eyebrows raise with some fancy interceptions and flashy ball handling.

Henningsen left the game on fouls near the middle of the second quarter, and the Bearcats' offense was further hindered by a tightened Husker defense.

One of the chief advantages of the Huskers was their height, which came in handy not only in getting rebounds but in scoring as well. It was a situation of "if you fall at first, try, try again." The taller men on the squad were always there to boost the ball up for another try if the initial attempt failed. Several baskets were made after the long shot failed but the rebound shot flipped in.

Cold on Free Throws

The second half barrage gave Husker Coach Harry Good's boys 23 baskets from 64 tries, while Coach Ryland Milner's Bearcats connected on only 13 of their 48 attempts.

The Bearcats also fell down in free throw attempts. They made only 13 out of 30, while the Huskers had a record of 12 out of 21.

Whitehead paced the Huskers with 19 points while Henningsen was the Northwest Missouri high man with 12 points.

Last year's Husker victory over the Bearcats was by a score of 59-39. The Bearcats will play Baker tonight in their first tangle of the Rockhurst tournament in Kansas City.

total of 60 points. Quarterback Schmidt of Rolla completed 51 of 110 passes for 748 yards, seven of them for touchdowns.

Tomorrow night at 7:30 p. m. there will be an opportunity for the College's swimmers to show their skill, speed, and stamina. The annual water carnival will take place in the College pool with many featured events, and the competition will be keen because of the number of outstanding swimmers enrolled in the school this quarter.

The events are 40 yard breast stroke; 40 yard free style; 40 yard back stroke. The distance swims are 80 yard side stroke; 80 yard free style; 80 yard back stroke; and the 80 yard breast stroke. There will also be a men's relay and a mixed relay.

Champions On Defensive

Defending champions of last year's water contest are Paul Puest in the 40 yard breast stroke; Paul Fisher in the 80 yard side stroke and the 80 yard back stroke; and Andy Runge in the 80 yard breast stroke. The winning relay team of 1948 was Walt Stanton, Maurice Geist, George Haws, and Don Hartness. Don Dressler, Sarabel Davis and Bill King were winners in the mixed relay.

Topping this aquatic evening, the Sigma Phi Dolphin club will present an attractive and interesting exhibition of water ballet and demonstration of strokes.

Another attraction will be the sixth grade swimmers of Horace Mann high school, who, under the direction of Sarabel Davis, will offer speedy relays.

Trophy Will Be Presented

A dark mystery of the intramural department is the presentation of a trophy to someone at the conclusion of the carnival. The reason for the trophy and the name of the receiver are a deep secret, to be made known only tomorrow evening.

All are cordially invited to attend the carnival, either as spectators or participants. Tomorrow night, then at 7:30 p.m., for some splashy scenes!

MIAA Officers Discuss Future Conference Rules

The Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association faculty representatives met in Kansas City, December 3, for discussion of conference eligibility rules.

At this meeting it was decided to continue for the present with the standing regulations of non-participation by professional athletes in sports within the conference, and that junior college transferees must establish a school residence of one year before competing.

At the meeting Northwest Missouri State was represented by Mr. H. R. Dieterich, principal of Horace Mann, who was elected vice president of the association. The date and location of the annual conference track and field meet was also decided at this meeting. The outdoor contest will be held at Warrensburg, May 13. At that time the representatives of the association will meet again.

Home Ec Club Members Attend Providence Shop

Four members of the College Home economics Club attended the Providence Shop, Number Nine, at Chickasha, Oklahoma. It was held on the campus of the Oklahoma College for Women, November 3-5. The Providence is a meeting of the Home Economics Clubs from Oklahoma, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri. The representatives of the College were Leola Shipley, Betty Curry, Rosetta Reed and Jo Ellen Wilson. Miss Curry is the president of the College club.

The principal speaker of the meeting was Miss Frances Urban. She is field secretary to the American Home Economics Association.

Ceglenski Shoots for Two

Al Henningsen and Charles Ramsey watch as Gene Ceglenski's push shot finds its way through the metal hoop. There doesn't seem to be any joy expressed on the faces of the Buena Vista stand-bys, and certainly wasn't when Maryville went on to win 54-24 in their opening seasonal contest.

Tourney Finals

Pittsburg 41, Maryville 36, championship. Baker 60, William Jewell 32, consolation. Rockhurst 58, Missouri Valley 55, for fifth place.

Inability to hit free throws when they were needed and a flurry of field shots that failed to find the netting cost the Maryville Bearcats their championship of the Rockhurst College tournament.

The Northwest Staters were defeated 41 to 36 by the Pittsburgh, Kas., Gorillas in the finals Saturday night in the Rockhurst Gym in Kansas City. After leading for 34 minutes the Cats were tied up at 30-all and when the Kansans got a 38 to 36 lead at the 2-minute mark they had the game iced.

Plays Good Floor Game

The loss of Pete Younger on personal fouls early in the second half was a blow to the Cats. He had sparked the Maryville attack in the early minutes. To Kirby Lyle goes the credit of playing the best all-around floor game of any of the Maryville players but Kirby's reluctance at aiming at the bucket cut down the Maryville offensive power. Lyle took only two shots, hitting his second time.

Pittsburg put a bigger team on the court, a club that got the tip-offs and rebounds, and as a result the Gorillas was able to control the ball.

Maryville in Surge

Maryville seemed headed for victory when in the first five minutes of the second half the Bearcats paced out to another 7-point lead, 30-23. Ceglenski, Lyle and Henningsen all poured in baskets. Spillman's tip was Pittsburgh's only scoring dent in the five minutes.

Then Brown whipped the cords with a set shot, and later added a free throw. Don Uhlensch fast broke the ball to a lay-up and Bill Mitchell strung the net with a long 2-pointer. That tied it at 30-all. Free throws kept Maryville in the Spotlighting intramural tournaments of former years--

Hustle and smooth ball handling paid off for a small Phi Sig basketball team in the 1947 intramurals. They fought off a strong Iowa "Corn Cob" team to "bring home the bacon." Standouts for the Phi Sigs were "Knobby" Walsh, Bob Anderson, and Jack Otte. All-stars for the season were Chuck Newton, Missouri Mules; Dick Morrison, "Corn Cobs"; Alvin Wormsley, Khroy Kids; Bob Anderson and Art Walsh, Phi Sigs.

The 1948 intramural clubs were teamed under the Red, White, and Blue leagues. Big Gun of the Red League was the Phi Sigs with a 12-0 record. In the White League, the M Club sported a 10-2 average and at the crest of the Blue teams stood the All-Stars with a 11-1 standing. High scorer of all games was Tom Walker of the Panthers who tallied 214 points. Close behind with 208 came Jack Milligan. Named to the All-star basketball team of the season were Jack Milligan, All-Stars; Dale Manship, House of Day; Tom Walker, Panthers; Bill Ogden, Phi Sigs; and Tom Stephens, All-Stars.

Members of last year's All-star teams were Dale Manship, John Pope, Don Manship, Walt Stanton, Ronald Wood, Byron Kunkel, Jerry Dietz, Bob Anderson, Glen Mero-dith, and Randall Malone. Once again there were three divisions, the Eastern, Central and Western leagues. Phi Sig Hustle was evident in tournament play as Phi Sigs emerged triumphant. The Independents placed second; the Ramblers, third; and the House of Day, fourth.

Not infrequently does an intramural team with a spotless record stub its toe in the play-off. This was the case with the Sparkies of a season ago. They were the team to beat as the double elimination tournament approached, but they were dusted off easily in the first two games. --Another reason why sports are interesting to follow.

The Bearcats racked up 197 points during eight football contests this season; opposition points figured 125. Biggest win for the Cats was the 40-12 romp over Warrensburg. Rolla's Miners tumbled through Maryville territory to stagger the Green and White with a 41-13 defeat. Maryville finished the season in second place tie with Springfield in MIAA standings, with a record of three wins, one loss, and one tie.

Don Hoffman's points after touchdown records will rank him with such kicking stars of previous years as Ralph Kurtright and Marlon Freeman. Hoffman, booting the extra points with Norm James holding, split the uprights on twenty conversions in twenty-five attempts this past season.
